Description

It is made of common evening primrose oil (vitaminizing, nourishing and softening), jaluronic acid (moisturising), polysaccharide (preventing skin ageing), wisely combined with precious thermal water. Despite its richness in oil, it does not grease and is easily absorbed. For proper use, apply on the face with a light and delicate rotating massage. For complete treatment, that would give the skin its full benefit, a beauty mask with thermal mud is advisable before the application of a phial or a skin purifying mask . It can be applied directly as a base for make-up or before your specific cream. For an effective result apply one phial a day for seven consecutive days and continue thereafter with the thermal anti-wrinkle cream.
